

EXCHANGE STUDENT

ABOUT KMITL

King Mongkut's Institute of Technology Ladkrabang (KMITL). We are delighted that you have chosen exchange destination at our institution. You are on the verge of embarking on an exciting and life-changing adventure. Studying at university away from home offers the opportunity to form a new community of friends, broaden your horizons and gain invaluable academic and life experience.

Studying abroad can be incredibly exciting but, at times, also challenging. The intent of this guide is, not only to give you more information about our university but also to provide you with answers to some of the practical questions you may have about living and studying on our campus.

The Office of International Affairs (OIA) is here to coordinate with and provide support to international students. Feel free to contact us with any questions regarding the content of this guide as well as any queries you may have about living and studying at KMITL.

We appreciate the contribution that you, as an international student, make in enriching the experience of all students and staff by helping KMITL in becoming a truly multicultural and global university. We wish you a safe trip and look forward to welcoming you to KMITL.

THAI FOOD

Khao Gaeng restaurants, you get to see all the Thai dishes that are available and choose to eat what looks the best... but sometimes it can be challenging to make a decision.

How to order...

Order on top of rice, or full plates at a Khao gaeng restaurant in Thailand, you can order either Rad khao or Gap khao.

Rad khao means that you will get a plate of rice, and then choose 2 - 3 different curries that will be placed right on top of your rice. Gap khao means that you order a couple of dishes that come on full plates, and you order a plate of rice apart.

If you order Gap khao, of course.. more expensive because you get more food! Traditionally, Gap khao entries are shared among everyone at the table, with a middle spoon of course, while everyone has a serving of rice to themselves (not shared).

However, there is really no rule to this, so - enjoy the best place to dine in the world as you see fit, within good boundaries.
